What Works

Jessamyn West - librarian.net/talks/michigan

Blogs, wikis, IM, RSS are all buzz words that have entered the library sphere, but what does it really mean to engage in social software? Join acclaimed technology librarian, Jessamyn West, and learn about what can happen when the library meets the patron, OR when a patron meets patrons, in the online world. This program will also take a look at the challenges of introducing social software in a library setting and include the topics of patron privacy and motivating staff to learn new technology.

Delivery Update

The AADL delivery truck experienced mechanical problems Friday morning and is being repaired. Evening deliveries were made with a temporary truck. Due to safety and access concerns, the materials loaded on AADL's truck may be unavailable until the truck is repaired. AADL staff would be happy to check the shelves for items that are listed as 'available' in the catalog before you arrive in person to pick them up. We regret any inconvenience this may cause you and appreciate your patience in this matter.

Downtown Library Project Update

On Monday evening, September 15, 2008, after months of work that included three public information sessions, focus groups with the public and the staff and several public meetings, the Library Board made the important decision to replace the current Downtown Library with a new building in the same location at South Fifth Avenue and William Street. The new building will be 47% larger at 160,000 square feet and four stories. Current services will be enhanced and spaces for youth, teens, exhibits, meetings, study, and reading will be larger. The building will include a 400 seat auditorium; a Reading Room that will be

About MLibrary 2.0

The MLibrary 2.0 Forum Series will explore new directions for access and services with regard to issues such as library 2.0, social networking, and the future of searching. The Series includes a range of activities, from presentations to interactive workshops. It is our goal to provide the theoretical framework and practical skills that will enable us as an organization to begin incorporating MLibrary 2.0 concepts into our services. Create, Share, Network... attend the MLibrary 2.0 Forum Series!

The events for this series begin June 8, 2007. Please see Events & Workshops for more information.

FINE FRIENDLY FRIDAYS

The first Friday of each month will be noted on many Monroe County calendars from now on. That's the day set aside monthly by the Library Board of Trustees when patrons can return overdue materials to the library, no matter how long overdue, and have their fines excused for a dollar donation to the charity designated by the Board.

$1.00 donation on that day cancels all overdue fines (not charges for lost items or library card replacement). Outstanding materials must be returned or paid for before fines can be forgiven.

Fine Friendly Fridays began on March 4, 2005 with every dollar donated going to the American Red Cross for tsunami relief efforts. There is a different charity selected each month through the end of the year. The goal is to have long overdue items returned to the library so they can be available to other patrons. Materials must be returned to be eligible, so items lost, ruined or un-returned for any reason will not qualify. All lost fines must be paid before overdue fines can be forgiven for the dollar donation. It's the perfect opportunity to return overdue materials and make a donation to a worthy cause at the same time.

Upcoming dates:

January 5, 2007 - MCOP: Utility assistance for Monroe County residents

February 2 - Muscular Dystrophy Association/MHS DECA

March 2 - American Red Cross: Local Disaster Relief

In a tough economy, West Michigan libraries are the place to be

GRAND RAPIDS -- Guy Thompson has learned how to find hours of entertainment without spending a lot of money.

Almost every day, the 48-year-old Grand Rapids resident walks a couple of blocks from his Southeast Side home to the Madison Square Library Branch, where he loads up on DVDs for free.

"They have a pretty nice collection, and it's convenient," said Thompson, who is home while nursing a ruptured disk in his back. "And, it's good therapy walking over here."

Library officials across West Michigan say their numbers are up this summer as residents look for cheaper alternatives to expensive car trips and vacations.
